DETAILED ACTION

Terminal Disclaimer

1. The terminal disclaimer filed on May 10, 2005 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration date of Patent Number 6,592,373 has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded.

Priority

2. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

3. The applicant is advised that claims 2-4, 8, and 9 contain subject matter not disclosed in the priority document; therefore, these claims are not afforded the priority date of April 17, 2001, but that of the filing date of this application.

Claim Objections

4. Claim 3 is objected to because of the following informalities: recitation of "said thermoplastic polymer" lacks sufficient antecedent basis. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 1 and 5-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Manne (4,015,332). Manne discloses a dental crown formed of a thermoplastic polymer material comprising a tooth shaped top surface and a continuous structure of depending flexible side surfaces, a part of the structure having an inwardly directed bottom portion (column 4 line 69). Patentable weight is not given to the process and intermediate products used in the process by which the dental crown is made, because a product claim is properly met if the final product is shown regardless of the process used.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title; if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 2-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Manne in view of Karmaker et al. (6,186,790). Manne discloses a dental crown that shows the limitations as described above; however, Manne shows a thermoplastic polymer material of polycarbonate and does not show the thermoplastic polymer material of a polymer as claimed. Karmaker et al. teach a dental crown formed of a variety of thermoplastic polymer material including polycarbonate, polysulfone, polyacetal, polyacrylate and polymethacrylate. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use a polymer of Karmaker et al. in the crown of Manne, because Karmaker et al. teach the material was known as art-recognized equivalent material at the time the invention was made in forming dental components including crowns. Furthermore, a specific polymer material is not disclosed as critical to the claimed invention. Karmaker et al. show the polymer material comprising fibers.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments filed May 10, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The prior art show the limitations of the claims. The Manne reference shows a crown comprising continuous structure of side surfaces and at least a part of the structure having an inwardly directed bottom portion as seen in figure 2. The slits in the molar tooth crown do not appear to make the crown have discontinuous structure of side surfaces. The Karmaker et al. reference is applied to show the types of thermoplastic polymer material used in forming dental crown in combination with the structure as shown in the Manne reference.

Conclusion

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
